

	ENGLISH IPA	AMERICAN IPA	DOUBLE IPA	NEW ENGLAND IPA
SPECS	ABV: 4.5 - 7.0% IBU: 35 - 60 Color 6 - 14 SRM	ABV: 5.5 - 7.5% IBU: 40 - 70 Color 6 - 14 SRM	ABV: 7.5 - 10% IBU: 60 - 120 Color 6 - 14 SRM	ABV: 6.0 - 7.5% IBU: 30 - 50 Color 3 - 7 SRM
ABOUT	Originated: Circa early 19th Century Definitive Example: Great Lakes - Commodore Perry	Originated: Late 1970s Definitive Example: Bell's Two - Hearted Ale	Originated: Circa 1994 Definitive Example: Russian River - Pliny the Elder	Originated: Circa 2010 Definitive Example: The Alchemist - Hazy Topper
COMMONLY USED HOPS	East Kent Golding, Fuggle, Target	Centennial, Cascade, Amarillo, Columbus	Magnum, Simcoe, Azacca, Warrior, Columbus	Citra, Simcoe, Mosaic, Galaxy, Nelson Sauvin, Idaho 7
FUN FACTS	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• The original• Most would be considered pale ales compared to modern IPAs• Most famously developed in the town of Burton in the mid 19th century• Much more balanced than other IPAs	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Originated in the late 70s as craft beer was beginning to grow• More bitterness and aroma than English counterpart• West Coast IPA, a substyle of American IPAs are known for being more aromatic and having a drier finish	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Also known as Imperial IPA• First brewed by Russian River founder Vinnie Cilurzo in 1994• More hops, more malt, more IPA• A showcase for hop flavors but brewed to be drinkable despite high ABV	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Often called Hazy IPA• Originated in Vermont, often credited to The Alchemist Founder John Kimmich• Brewed to be soft on the palate with overwhelming hop aromas and little to no bitterness• The style has overtaken the IPA market